

Men's Boxes

Open to Tennis Section Members Only

Men's Boxers promote friendly competition in the Men's section, introduce singles players to new opponents at their level, and provide a framework for matches where there is something to play for.

How it works:

You'll be assigned to a box league consisting of 3 to 5 individuals and granted sufficient time for all players to compete against each other. Participants are required to actively reserve courts and coordinate matches, with some leeway regarding scheduling.

There will be promotion and relegation for those finishing at the top and bottom of each box. Box winners and all players in a box with all possible games played, will be awarded drink vouchers.
